Dinges named chief credit officer at Founders Bank

SUGAR LAND (February 5, 2009) — J. Michael Dinges has been given the additional title of chief credit officer at Founders Bank.

Dinges remains an executive vice president and advisory director of the bank. His new responsibilities include managing credit policy and overseeing risk management activities and loan quality.

“Mike has been a key member of our team since joining Founders Bank,” said Jim Sturgeon, president and chief executive officer. “He really knows the local market and his experience and insight are invaluable. In his new role supervising our credit activities, he will play an even larger role in helping Founders Bank – and our clients – achieve their business objectives.

“Since we make all loan decisions here locally, it’s a tremendous benefit to have Mike on the Founders Bank team, and we’re pleased to recognize him for his contributions.”

Dinges was raised in Fort Bend County, where family members have worked as cattle ranchers since the 1940s. He is involved in a number of Fort Bend County business and charitable activities.
